

Seed Jar
Dorothy Torivio, Acoma Pueblo
Main Terminal, 2200 Sunport Blvd SE

Traditionally, seed jars are meant to store seeds during the winter months. The small opening at the top would keep out rodents who might like to eat the seeds stored inside. This particular seed jar is a work of art handpainted by Dorothy Torivio, a renowned Acoma artist.