

Call for Photography of Launch Directors- aka “Zebras”

Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta 2019

Launch Directors or “Zebras” as they are called dress in black and white stripes and successfully guide balloons into the sky during the Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta and other ballooning events. While respecting their space and allowing them to do their important job, you are invited to photograph them at their best. Your photograph might be selected to be featured in an upcoming exhibit at the Anderson Abruzzo Albuquerque International Balloon Museum.

Novices through experienced photographers are encouraged to submit. No previous photography experience required.

Submit up to five photographs by Friday, November 1, 2019 at 5 pm, MST to zebras@cabq.gov, include your name, address, phone number and title of each photo. Attachments to email may not exceed 10 mb.
