Chairman's Perspective

My service on the Police Oversight Commission (POC) has given me the opportunity to participate in the oversight process, dealing with the problems arising from the interactions between citizens and our local police. The POC monitors the citizens' complaint investigations which are conducted by the Independent Review Officer's (IRO) staff, we interact with the APD, the IRO, as well as considering the appropriate guidance of the City Attorney. These activities have allowed the POC to take the initiative in encouraging improved policies and practices by the APD. The volunteer commissioners on the POC diligently and impartially enforce the POC Ordinance. Their efforts in reviewing the actions of the APD and the IRO investigations have benefited the City by elevating the level of relations between the police and the local citizens.

Most citizens prefer to have complaints against police investigated by independent investigators; i.e., investigators who are not part of the police department. Through their thorough and impartial investigations and reports, the investigators of the Independent Review Office have been the backbone of our oversight function. Likewise, the support of the Albuquerque Police Department for the IRO has been a key element in having our oversight process function effectively. The command staff of the Albuquerque Police Department cooperates fully with the IRO and the Chief imposes appropriate sanctions when necessary. Disagreements between APD and the IRO are aired publicly on television and are ruled on by the POC. This practice has been instructive to the public and to the POC. The Mayor and the City Council have given us a process which works, and their continuing attention assures us that the process will be reviewed and adjusted to meet changing conditions and needs. As a result of the cooperation and the continuing efforts of all the entities involved, we have one of the better operating police oversight operations in the United States.

The relationship between the police and the citizens of the community is always a sensitive one. It takes real dedication on the part of the men and women of APD to monitor and exercise control over our expanding and diverse population. Questioning authority is typically American, yet a certain degree of order must be maintained in our modern densely populated urban society. Mediation has proven to be one often effective way of addressing the disputes which arise between citizens and the police, and I strongly endorse the mediation procedure set up by the APD and the POC. Mediation fosters greater understanding on the part of all concerned, and such understanding is essential in encouraging mutual support and cooperation between the citizens of Albuquerque and the Albuquerque Police Department.

I am honored to have the opportunity to serve as the Chairperson of the Police Oversight Commission.

Linda Martinez, Chair
Police Oversight Commission

Executive Summary

Mission Statement

The mission of the Police Oversight Commission (POC) is to provide a means for prompt, impartial, and fair investigation of all citizen complaints brought by individuals against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD), and to provide for community participation in setting and reviewing police department policies, practices and procedures. The Independent Review Officer, William Deaton (IRO) works with the POC and APD to ensure that (1) citizen complaints are thoroughly investigated, (2) citizens have a fair opportunity to appeal the results, and (3) APD policies are changed to prevent the recurrence of problems identified through the complaint process.

Complaints Filed During 2008

There were 270 complaints filed in 2008. Citizen complaints have identified problems within the Prisoner Transfer Center, completion of use of force forms, individual officers as well as numerous policy issues.

Appeals

Twelve appeals were scheduled by the Police Oversight Commission in 2008. The POC agreed with the IRO and the Chief of Police on all of the appeal findings.

Policy Reviews

The Long Term Planning Committee reviews all complaints where the IRO and the Chief disagree before the cases are heard by the full POC.

INFORMATION CONCERNING THE PROCESS

I. Responsibilities of the POC and IRO

The purpose of the police oversight system is to provide a means for prompt, impartial, and fair investigation of all citizen complaints brought by individuals against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD), and to provide for community participation in setting and reviewing police department policies, practices and procedures.

The Police Oversight Commission

(POC) is composed of nine volunteers who broadly represent the diversity of the City. The Commission is chaired by Linda Martinez, and Ira Rimson is the vice chair. The POC has been charged to perform the following functions.

1. To promote a spirit of accountability and communication between the citizens and APD while improving community relations and enhancing public confidence.
2. To oversee the full investigation and/or mediation of all citizen complaints; audit and monitor all investigations and/or police shootings under investigation by APD's Internal Affairs (IA).
3. To gain the cooperation of APD and solicit public input by holding regularly scheduled public meetings.
4. To review all work of the Independent Review Office (IRO) with respect to quality, thoroughness, and impartiality of investigations.
5. Submit a quarterly report to the Mayor and City Council.
6. Submit all findings to the Chief of Police.
7. To engage in a long-term planning process through which it identifies major problems and establishes a program of policy suggestions and studies each year.

The Long Term Planning Committee:

(LTPC) of the POC consists of three commissioners and is chaired by Ira Rimson. These meetings are open to the public. The LTPC conducts detailed reviews of issues referred to them by the POC.

The Independent Review Officer, William W. Deaton is an inactive attorney who manages the Independent Review Office and its staff. The IRO is given autonomy and performs the following duties under the direction of the POC.

1. The IRO receives all citizen complaints directed against APD and any of its officers. The IRO will review the citizen complaints and assign them to be investigated by IRO independent investigators or to Internal Affairs.
2. The IRO will oversee, monitor and review all of those investigations and make findings for each. These findings are reviewed by the chain of command of the Albuquerque Police Department and, if agreement is reached by the Chief of Police and the Independent Review Officer, forwarded to the POC for their approval. When there is no agreement between APD and the IRO, the matter is presented to the Police Oversight Commission as a “non-concurrence”, and the Commission then makes its findings.

3. The IRO makes recommendations and gives advice regarding APD policies and procedures to the POC, City Council, APD, and the Mayor.
4. An impartial system of mediation may be used for certain complaints.
5. The IRO monitors all claims of excessive force and police shootings and is an ex-officio member of the Claims Review Board.
6. The IRO ensures that all investigations are thorough, objective, fair, impartial, and free from political influence.
7. The Independent Review Office maintains and compiles information sufficient to satisfy the POC’s quarterly reporting requirements.
8. The IRO and his/her staff shall play an active public role in the community and provide appropriate outreach* to the community; publicizing the citizen complaint process and the locations within the community that are suitable for citizens to file complaints in a non-police environment.

II. Processing Complaints Against the Police

Any person may file a written complaint against APD or any of its officers. All complaints must be signed by the complainant as required by the union contract.

These written complaints can be sent to:

- a. The IRO’s website at www.cabq.gov/iro.
- b. At the IRO office at Room 813, Plaza del Sol, 600 2nd St, NW.
- c. Mail to IRO, P.O. Box 1293, Albuquerque, NM 87103, or
- d. Internal Affairs, Albuquerque Police Department.

Complaint forms and the Ordinance establishing the POC and the IRO are available on the IRO website (see above). Complaint forms are also available at the IRO office, at City libraries, homeless shelters, police substations, and the Internal Affairs Unit of APD. The complaints may be filed with the city staff. All complaints will be forwarded to the IRO.

When the IRO receives a complaint, the complaint is entered into the IRO's case management database and assigned a unique Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) number. The IRO reviews the complaint and assigns the case to the IRO investigators or Internal Affairs. Upon completion of the investigation, the IRO reviews the investigation for thoroughness, impartiality, and fairness. The IRO will also consider and determine recommendations by the investigators as to which APD Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) the citizen alleged to be violated; and what are the appropriate findings and conclusions based on the evidence developed in the investigation. Findings are based on a preponderance of the evidence.

Definitions of complaint dispositions are as follows:

- 1. Sustained: APD Member is determined to have committed the alleged violation.
- 2. Not Sustained: It cannot be determined by a preponderance of the evidence whether the member did or did not commit the alleged violation.
- 3. Unfounded: Member did not commit the alleged violation.
- 4. Exonerated: Member was justified in taking the course of action alleged and/or member was operating with the guidelines of the law or SOPs.
- 5. Inactivated: Complaint was determined to not merit further investigation. Complaints can be inactivated for several reasons, including; failure to allege a violation of SOPs, submitting a complaint over 90 days after the incident, complaint is not against APD members, the APD member cannot be identified, or the case was successfully mediated.

*Mediation has been very successful. Chief Schultz formalized a pilot mediation program. Five selected lieutenants and sergeants received mediation training. Mediated complaints are inactivated. Therefore, the number of inactivated complaints has increased substantially

The IRO's findings are reviewed by the Police chain of command and then, if there is agreement between the Chief of Police and the IRO; sent to the Police Oversight Commission in the form of a Public Record Letter to be sent to the citizen. If the Chief of Police disagrees with the IRO's findings, the POC decides the matter after hearing both sides. A Public Record Letter stating the findings is then sent to the complainant by certified mail. The Chief of Police has sole disciplinary authority over police department personnel.

If the citizen who filed the complaint is dissatisfied with the findings, he may appeal that decision to the POC. The appeal must be made within ten business days from the date the citizen receives the aforementioned public record letter from the IRO or POC. Appeals and non-concurrences are heard during the POC's monthly televised meetings which are open to the public. Upon appeal, the POC may adopt or change the findings and recommendations of the IRO and may make further recommendations to the Chief. If the citizen is still not satisfied with the action of the POC or the Chief of Police, the citizen may request a review by the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) within 10 business days.

The process is a very transparent process and subject to public scrutiny. The administration, city councilors, and citizens of Albuquerque have created a system of civilian oversight of the police department that they can be proud of. The passage of the amendments to the Police Oversight Ordinance in 2004 has improved the system. Our City Council has given us one of best operating oversight systems in the United States and it is unique to Albuquerque.

II. Timeliness of Investigating Citizen Complaints

In 2008 we have received 270 complaints. With our three investigators, the IRO office has investigated almost all complaints. A few complaints have been referred to Internal Affairs for investigation. The IRO has one case pending over 90 days.

IV. Sustained Allegations

In 2001, 53 complaints were sustained. 39 were sustained in 2002, while eighteen of those cases were sustained in the last three months of 2002. 49 complaints were Sustained from 2003 and 62 citizen complaints were sustained in 2004. Three police shooting investigations were sustained by the POC, but one was reversed on appeal by the CAO. In 2005, 68 citizen complaints and 8 police shootings have been sustained for procedural violations as of this report. In 2006, 73 complaints were sustained. In 2007, 89 complaints were sustained. In 2008 48 complaints were sustained.

V. Detailed Complaint Information, Part I-IX.

The following detailed information is the same type of information and in the same format that was compiled in the annual reports for 2000-2007.

Alleged SOP Violations

Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) provide written directives to guide and direct Department personnel in the performance of their duties. The specific narrative of the Standard Operating Procedures implicated by the citizen complaints submitted this year are set forth in Part V of this Report. The following is a general description of the types of SOP violations alleged in the complaints. This general description is provided for informational purposes only. Because officer attitude and language are a frequent source of complaint, details of those types of complaints have been listed. Please note some allegations fall into more than one category, or there may be more than one allegation per case.

CPC Investigation Outcomes by Alleged SOP Violation

The following section indicates the outcome of a CPC investigation with regard to the number of findings for a SOP violation. The definition of findings is taken from § 3-43-12 of the SOP Manual. "IRO would find" indicates that during the review process the IRO suggested the specified SOP as a possible violation by the officer. Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs)

Characteristics of Complaints

2008 Annual Report

As each Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) was received and reviewed by the IRO, data is collected. Citizens provide the data voluntarily when the complaint is submitted. Sometimes the citizens decide not to submit requested information; therefore, the numbers in some areas will not always equal the number of CPCs filed.

CPC Summary of Complaint

Part III- Summary of Citizen Annual Report- 2008

The following is a list of Citizen Police Complaints (CPCs) submitted and reviewed during the year 2008. For each CPC there is listed a summary of the complaint as described by the citizen, the officer involved by numeric code, the implicated Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) for each officer involved, the investigative finding, the IRO's review and Chief of Police's decision. The investigator is indicated as either the IRO or IA.

The CPCs received this year are numbered 001-08 through 270-08 and are listed in Section A. Completed investigations are noted. Where the investigation has not been completed, the SOP and Finding indicate: "Pending". Where the investigation had been completed but not reviewed by the IRO, the IRO Review / Chief's Decision will indicate: "pending".

Cases from prior years that were reviewed this year, are listed in Section B.

The geographic location of each incident is indicated by APD Area Command, City Council District (after redistricting), and Neighborhood Association boundaries.

Outside the home, her other friend was arrested for carrying a concealed handgun, and when she provided identification to the officers, she was arrested on an outstanding misdemeanor warrant. The citizen further alleges that the officers conspired to cover up the illegal entry to her home and that the police report contains factual errors. She wanted for the daughter's father to leave the home while speaking with the APD dispatcher the phone disconnected. The daughter's father had left the premises and realized he had left some of his belonging there so he went back only to get into an argument with the citizen. While the two were arguing APD was at the door listening and rushed into the apartment forcing the door open hitting both the daughter and her father. APD threw the father down to the ground, applied pressure to his shoulder and neck creating a gash on his face and chin. The citizen believes that the police were on a mission because they were dispatched to an intoxicated native-american. She also felt that APD was putting words in her mouth and told her that if she didn't write a statement they could charge her with withholding Information and Obstruction of Justice. The citizen made a comment to one of the officers about being a "dirty cop" and the officer rushed her and put his hands on her chest with an aggressive nature and pushed her into the apartment. The officer then called the boy and spoke with the daughter and informed the citizen the her daughter was okay and safe. The citizen feels that APD swept the issue under the rug and referred her to Albuquerque Public Schools. APS didn't know why APD told her to contact them. The citizen then called the police department in Santa Fe and they told her to call them once she got into Santa Fe and who to talk to. Two sheriff deputies went and got her daughter from boy's home. The citizen was answering the questions and the officer asked if the driver/companion knew English and they both replied "yes". The officer then told the citizen to sit there and be quiet, that he was not talking to her. The citizen replied she was 75 years old and for him to show some respect for his elders. The officer again told the citizen to stop talking, and she did. The citizen complains that the APD officer that pulled him over was under the assumption that the driver/companion of the vehicle was under the influence of alcohol. The officer asked for the companions drivers license and ran a check. The citizen believes that the officer then called for backup. When the other officers arrived they had the companion step out of the car. When he stepped out of the car he was in the street on the highway and one of the officers shouted "Get off the FUCKING highway STUPID. Move over there STUPID", as the officer pointed to the wall. 055-08 The citizen is a cancer patient from Roswell and was due for biopsies the next day. Citizen states that they have stayed at this same hotel and have not had a problem and did not anticipate any this time. At approximately 3:00 a.m. they were awoken by a very loud banging on the door, there was no identification announced. The Citizen states that they were extremely frightened and turn out the light they had left on, so that "anyone watching could not watch our movements" and so the other citizen could "pulled" on some clothes. The Citizen found the phone and called down to the front desk, the individual at the front desk said that he would check on it immediately. Shortly the pounding resumed and still no identification was announced. The Citizen called the front desk again and he told the citizen that it was their hotel security and to let them in. The other citizen looked out through the curtains and the two individuals standing there did not have uniforms on, one had a stocking cap on and that is when they showed him their badges. The citizens did not know if they were APD Officers or hotel security, they identified themselves as "Police." The citizens opened the door and one officer said they had received a tip that a female killer was in that room. The officers were confronted by two 65ish and somewhat ill individuals the officers then came to the conclusion that the tip was in error. The citizen states that the officer handed them a room key and said they had been prepared to use it if they had not opened the door. The citizen states there was a "parting shot" from the officers "Well, now you can go back to sleep." The citizen would like to know if these two individuals were ADP Officers or if the hotel ordered their own security? The citizen would also like to know if this is standard procedure regarding phone tips from unknown sources?

225-07 Citizens wife was moody due to pregnancy and he was concerned about her mental health. He called the non-emergency number and also requested an EMT come assess her. When officers arrived they came into his home without permission and he asked them to wait outside. They arrested him for Domestic Violence and his wife never claimed that. The call had nothing to do with Domestic Violence. The officers threatened to tase him and they used an arm bar technique to the floor and cuffed him. While at substation the officer kept complaining that he had to wait with the citizen for the Transport Officers.

Officer Information for Citizen Complaints

As citizen complaints are received and completed investigations are reviewed, the IRO assigns a numeric code to each officer who was involved in the complaint. The number has no significance. This part of the Report is organized by officer code number. The officer is identified by sex and rank. Each of the Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) involving an officer has been listed, as well as the implicated SOP violation, investigative Finding, review by IRO and the final decision by the Chief.

“Pending” under SOP and Finding indicates that the investigation has not been completed. Therefore, not all officers involved in all CPC's received have been identified to the IRO. A numeric code will be assigned when the investigation is completed and given to the IRO for review.

Please note that pursuant to § 9-4-1-5(F) of the Ordinance, the Chief of Police has final disciplinary authority. Discipline imposed on an officer, can be appealed through the City personnel process and is considered a personnel action.

Police Oversight Commission: Appeal Reviews of Citizen Police

This Part lists the appeals requested to be heard by the Police Oversight Commission (POC). Pursuant to § 9-4-1-9(A) of the Ordinance, citizens who were dissatisfied with the outcome of their complaint as contained in the dispositional letter from the Chief of Police, could appeal to the POC.

Each appeal is listed by Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) number. A brief description of the case is given. A timeline is provided of when the dispositional letter by the Chief was issued, the date the citizen requested an appeal, when it was first set, if it was reset and then when the case was heard. The date of the decision of the POC is indicated and when a request was made for the CAO to review the decision of the POC.

The officer involved is referred to by the numeric code assigned by the IRO. It should be noted that no officer ever appeared before the POC. The Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) implicated in the complaint is listed, accompanied by the original Internal Affairs (IA) investigative finding and whether or not the IRO concurred with the IA finding. The recommendation of the POC is indicated as well as whether or not the Chief followed the recommendation. Finally, any decision by the CAO is indicated.

As with all Parts of the Report, the CPC and Officer numbers can be cross-referenced to other Parts of the Report for further information on a particular case or officer.

CPC # Summary of Complaint
