- Make-up bags, cigarettes, a shot glass, books, school ID.
- Purses and wallets, bags of art supplies, back packs, football bag/equipment.

TRENDING:

- Auto burglaries: The trail head parking areas east of Tramway from Lomas to Elena Gallegos continue to be targeted by auto burglars. Victims still continue to leave purses, keys, and wallets inside vehicles and then leave to use the wilderness area trails.
- Residential burglary entries: Removing screens from windows, entering home through unlocked or open windows.
- Residential burglaries this month: some reports in the Foothills noted relatives are being accused of burglaries by family members who allowed them to stay in their homes or visit their homes.
- Firearms: The Foothills Area Command had more guns stolen than counted here due to the reporting parties not having an exact count of how many firearms were stolen in residential burglaries.

This is where a PROPERTY INVENTORY is vital to help law enforcement get an accurate count of stolen firearms, to document the victim's property to enter the firearms into NCIC and to boost the odds of getting their property back if it is recovered.

It is so important to start a property inventory and at least have firearms' makes, models, serial numbers, calibers and any extra features kept in a safe place in the event of a burglary.
