Symptomatic/ Positive Covid Work/School Note

To Whom It May Concern:

The CDC recommends quarantine of symptomatic persons with presumed or known COVID-19 infection. This includes people who have any symptoms suggestive of COVID-19 according to the CDC guidelines.

Kenneth Stalte was seen in clinic and may return to social distancing when the following criteria are met. Please note, due to possibility of false-negative tests, we recommend quarantine EVEN IN THE EVENT OF A NEGATIVE TEST until:

- a) 10 days have passed since onset of symptoms AND
- b) 24 hours fever-free without use of fever-reducing medications

If you have a positive test BUT NEVER DEVELOP ANY SYMPTOMS:

- c) You may return to social distancing 10 days after positive test

 The CDC and NM DOH do NOT recommend routine retesting to determine eligibility for discontinuation of isolation. IF the above criteria are met, no repeat test is required. Repeat tests may remain positive for months, even though the risk of spreading the virus is negligible.

Sincerely,

San Grues
