- 6. Pastor David Walker
  - CPC is a tool for constitutional policing because it gives the right to all citizen regardless of who they are. In the early 1980's the CPC got developed and discovered to encourage interactive partnership between law enforcement and the people. The benefits of community policing
    - Have that favorable view of local police departments to improve that trust between the residents and Albuquerque police department.
    - Gives accurate information from the residents regarding criminal activity in the community to understand the needs of citizens and expectations of the police department. Community policing council are intended to help prevent crime before it happens rather than responding to the crime after it happen. Help create a safe and social environment for all the residents in Albuquerque.

7. Lt Jennifer Garcia APD Community Engagement specialist: ambassador program

- Went into effect last year in May 2021. It consists of collateral officers that volunteer to work as liaisons for groups that have been underrepresented in the community. Their role is to bring that gap between Albuquerque citizens and APD officers. Build trust, develop partnerships with the community. They cannot be successful without the help of the community. The liaison meets with their groups monthly and reports back to Lt Garcia and Chief once a month. They participate in recruiting events to help build diversity in the department.
- Community engagement Unit- Formally known as the school resource officers. Works with the youth not just in schools but within the youth programs.
- Youth programs – The summer camps are now open for registration and they are hosting six camps in each area command for 40 youth. Their goals are to try to get the most at-risk youth from ages 8-18 years old to attend the camps and build relationships with APD, national guard, fire department, and DA's office to help mentor the youth.
  - Junior Police academy that is held for one day, ages 4-17 years old. The academy teaches them what APD does.
- If anyone needs assistance contact the individuals with those groups (Native Americans, African Americans, Hispanics, Asians, refugee, LGBTQ+, faith based, senior citizens, and American with disabilities).
