

Jerry Evans, Task Force Member

Jerry Evans came to Albuquerque, in 1969 when he was recruited out of college by a division of a national electronic company as a Labor Relations Manager. He is an alumni of Auburn University and Luther Rice Seminary. He worked for three NYSE companies and wound up being a CEO. In the midst of a successful career, Jerry left the business world and entered full time vocational ministry. He was a pastor for 28 years. While in the business world, he wrote Personnel ordinances, set up wage and salary plans, etc. for several cities in New Mexico. He is semiretired, works for two churches and does Church Health consulting. He has been married to his wife Becky for 53 years and they have two grown children and seven grandchildren. Jerry is a motivational and special events speaker in churches and the business world. He has served as Chairman of the board of a Pregnancy Care Center, President of two civic organizations and served as a board member of Albuquerque Industrial Development, is a published author and believes that strong families is the key to keeping America strong.