Chairman's Perspective

Chairman's Perspective 2009 Annual Report

As we come into the New Year and the year comes to an end, I would like to congratulate Chief Schultz on being reappointed. I believe he has done a good job in dealing with complaints that come in against his officers. I would also like to congratulate Alan Banks who worked as the Internal Affairs Representative to the Police Oversight Commission, in becoming a Deputy Chief; I believe he will do an outstanding job.

Once again, I would like to reiterate the accountability and the use of belt tapes and recommend the penalty for not using them to be more severe than it is presently. In every aspect of our society, accountability motivates individuals and organizations to do the right thing. On the Police Oversight Commission, our duty as commissioners is to review and listen to complaints from our citizens concerning our police department. Some complaints have more merit than others, but the one thing we ought to insist on is that our police officers use belt tapes as often as is practical. This would materially help in determining what transpired in an incident complained of, and whether an officer violated a Standard Operation Procedure (SOP).

In the Albuquerque Journal, in 1993, Pat Apodaca, who was the Independent Counsel, said in regards to belt tapes--“The tapes provide a very clear record of what transpired whenever allegations against an officer arise.” Apodaca said he wanted a policy requiring recorders be turned on for all calls because if what was said leading up to the officer's decision to turn on a recorder was missed it made Apodaca's determination of what happened more difficult.

Albuquerque Journal – Jan. 15th, 1993

It is amazing, but since 1993 some things have not changed. Our decisions as commissioners would be much more reliable if broader tape recorder use were required; and, if not used when required, the sanction for the violation of the SOP more substantial. This would help in allowing more accountability to our citizens and to the officers on the streets. I believe Albuquerque needs to purchase digital belt recording devices, and to require them to be used more often. I have served on the Police Oversight Commission for almost two full terms and have had the privilege of being selected as chairman twice. I believe that what the Independent Review Office and the Police Oversight Commission do is of vital importance as we move forward in making Albuquerque a safer place to raise our families.

Executive Summary

Mission Statement

The mission of the Police Oversight Commission (POC) is to provide a means for prompt, impartial, and fair investigation of all citizen complaints brought by individuals against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD), and to provide for community participation in setting and reviewing police department policies, practices and procedures. William Deaton, the Independent Review Officer (IRO) works with the POC and APD to ensure that (1) citizen complaints are thoroughly investigated, (2) citizens have a fair opportunity to appeal the results, and (3) APD policies are changed to prevent the recurrence of problems identified through the complaint process.

Complaints Filed During 2009

There were 265 complaints filed in 2009.

Appeals

Fifteen appeals were scheduled by the Police Oversight Commission in 2009. The POC agreed with the IRO and the Chief of Police on all of the appeal findings.

Policy Reviews

The Long Term Planning Committee reviews all complaints where the IRO and the Chief disagree before the cases are heard by the full POC. The committee also reviews all IRO reports on police shootings and makes a recommendation to the POC.

INFORMATION CONCERNING THE PROCESS

I. Responsibilities of the POC and IRO

The purpose of the police oversight system is to provide a means for prompt, impartial, and fair investigation of all citizen complaints brought by individuals against the Albuquerque Police Department (APD), and to provide for community participation in setting and reviewing police department policies, practices and procedures.

The Police Oversight Commission

(POC) is composed of nine volunteers who broadly represent the diversity of the City. The POC has been charged to perform the following functions.

1. To promote a spirit of accountability and communication between the citizens and APD while improving community relations and enhancing public confidence.
2. To oversee the full investigation and/or mediation of all citizen complaints; audit and monitor all investigations and/or police shootings under investigation by APD's Internal Affairs (IA).

3. To gain the cooperation of APD and solicit public input by holding regularly scheduled public meetings.
4. To review all work of the Independent Review Office (IRO) with respect to quality, thoroughness, and impartiality of investigations.
5. To submit periodic reports to the Mayor and City Council.
6. To submit all findings to the Chief of Police.
7. To engage in a long-term planning process through which it identifies major problems and establishes a program of policy suggestions and studies each year.

The Long Term Planning Committee:

The Long Term Planning Committee (LTPC) of the POC consists of three commissioners and is chaired by Bambi Folk. These meetings are open to the public. The LTPC conducts detailed reviews of issues referred to them by the POC.

The Independent Review Officer, William W. Deaton is an inactive attorney who manages the Independent Review Office and its staff. The IRO is given autonomy and performs the following duties under the direction of the POC.

1. The IRO receives all citizen complaints directed against APD and any of its officers. The IRO will review the citizen complaints and assign them to be investigated by IRO independent investigators or by Internal Affairs.
2. The IRO will oversee, monitor and review all of those investigations and make findings for each. These findings are reviewed by the chain of command of the Albuquerque Police Department and, if agreement is reached by the Chief of Police and the Independent Review Officer, forwarded to the POC for their approval. When there is no agreement between APD and the IRO, the matter is presented to the Police Oversight Commission as a “non-concurrence”, and the Commission then makes its findings.
3. The IRO makes recommendations and gives advice regarding APD policies and procedures to the POC, City Council, APD, and the Mayor.
4. An impartial system of mediation may be used for certain complaints.
5. The IRO monitors all claims of excessive force and police shootings and is an ex-officio member of the Claims Review Board.
6. The IRO ensures that all investigations are thorough, objective, fair, impartial, and free from political influence.
7. The Independent Review Office maintains and compiles information sufficient to satisfy the POC’s quarterly reporting requirements.
8. The IRO and his/her staff shall play an active public role in the community and provide appropriate outreach to the community; publicizing the citizen complaint process and the locations within the community that are suitable for citizens to file complaints in a non-police environment.

II. Processing Complaints Against the Police

Any person may file a written complaint against APD or any of its officers. All complaints must be signed by the complainant as required by the union contract.

These written complaints can be sent to:

- a. The IRO's website at www.cabq.gov/iro.
- b. At the IRO office at Room 813, Plaza del Sol, 600 2nd St, NW.
- c. Mail to IRO, P.O. Box 1293, Albuquerque, NM 87103, or
- d. Internal Affairs, Albuquerque Police Department.

Complaint forms and the Ordinance establishing the POC and the IRO are available on the IRO website (see above). Complaint forms are also available at the IRO office, at City libraries, homeless shelters, police substations, and the Internal Affairs Unit of APD. The complaints may be filed with the city staff. All complaints will be forwarded to the IRO.

When the IRO receives a complaint, the complaint is entered into the IRO's case management database and assigned a unique Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) number. The IRO reviews the complaint and assigns the case to the IRO investigators or Internal Affairs. Upon completion of the investigation, the IRO reviews the investigation for thoroughness, impartiality, and fairness. The IRO will also consider and determine recommendations by the investigators as to which APD Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) the citizen alleged to be violated; and what are the appropriate findings and conclusions based on the evidence developed in the investigation. Findings are based on a preponderance of the evidence.

Definitions of complaint dispositions are as follows:

1. Sustained: APD Member is determined to have committed the alleged violation.
2. Not Sustained: It cannot be determined by a preponderance of the evidence whether the member did or did not commit the alleged violation.
3. Unfounded: Member did not commit the alleged violation.
4. Exonerated: Member was justified in taking the course of action alleged and/or member was operating with the guidelines of the law or SOPs.
5. Inactivated: Complaint was determined to not merit further investigation. Complaints can be inactivated for several reasons, including; failure to allege a violation of SOPs, submitting a complaint over 90 days after the incident, complaint is not against APD members, the APD member cannot be identified, or the case was successfully mediated.

*Mediation has been very successful. Chief Schultz formalized a mediation program. Lieutenant Jan Olstad is in charge of the mediation program. Five selected lieutenants and sergeants received mediation training. Mediated complaints are generally inactivated. Therefore, the number of inactivated complaints has increased substantially.

The IRO's findings are reviewed by the Police chain of command and then, if there is agreement between the Chief of Police and the IRO; sent to the Police Oversight Commission in the form of a Public Record Letter to be sent to the citizen. If the Chief of Police disagrees with the IRO's findings, the POC decides the matter after hearing both sides. A Public Record Letter stating the findings is then sent to the complainant by certified mail. The Chief of Police has sole disciplinary authority over police department personnel.

If the citizen who filed the complaint is dissatisfied with the findings, he may appeal that decision to the POC. The appeal must be made within ten business days from the date the citizen receives the aforementioned public record letter from the IRO or POC. Appeals and non-concurrences are heard during the POC's monthly televised meetings which are open to the public. Upon appeal, the POC may adopt or change the findings and recommendations of the IRO and may make further recommendations to the Chief. If the citizen is still not satisfied with the action of the POC or the Chief of Police, the citizen may request a review by the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) within 10 business days.

This process is very transparent and it is subject to public scrutiny. The administration, city councilors, and citizens of Albuquerque have created a functioning and productive system of civilian oversight of the police department that they can be proud of. The passage of the amendments to the Police Oversight Ordinance in 2004 has improved the system. Our City Council has given us an ordinance which has put in place one of the best operating oversight systems in the United States and it is unique to Albuquerque.

III. Timeliness of Investigating Citizen Complaints

In 2009 we have received 209 complaints. With our three investigators, the IRO office has investigated almost all complaints. A few complaints have been referred to Internal Affairs for investigation. The IRO sought extensions of time for investigation in fewer than 2% of the cases received during 2009.

IV. Sustained Allegations

In 2001, 53 complaints were sustained. 39 were sustained in 2002, while eighteen of those cases were sustained in the last three months of 2002. 49 complaints were sustained from 2003 and 62 citizen complaints were sustained in 2004. Three police shooting investigations were sustained by the POC, but one was reversed on appeal by the CAO. In 2005, 68 citizen complaints and 8 police shootings have been sustained for procedural violations as of this report. In 2006, 73 complaints were sustained. In 2007, 89 complaints were sustained. In 2008, 48 complaints were sustained. In 2009, 55 complaints were sustained.

V. Detailed Complaint Information.

Alleged SOP Violations

Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) provide written directives to guide and direct Department personnel in the performance of their duties. The specific narrative of the Standard Operating Procedures implicated by the citizen complaints submitted this year are set forth in Part V of this Report. The following is a general description of the types of SOP violations alleged in the complaints. This general description is provided for informational purposes only. Because officer attitude and language are a frequent source of complaint, details of those types of complaints have been listed. Please note some allegations fall into more than one category, or there may be more than one allegation per case.

General Description of SOP Violation

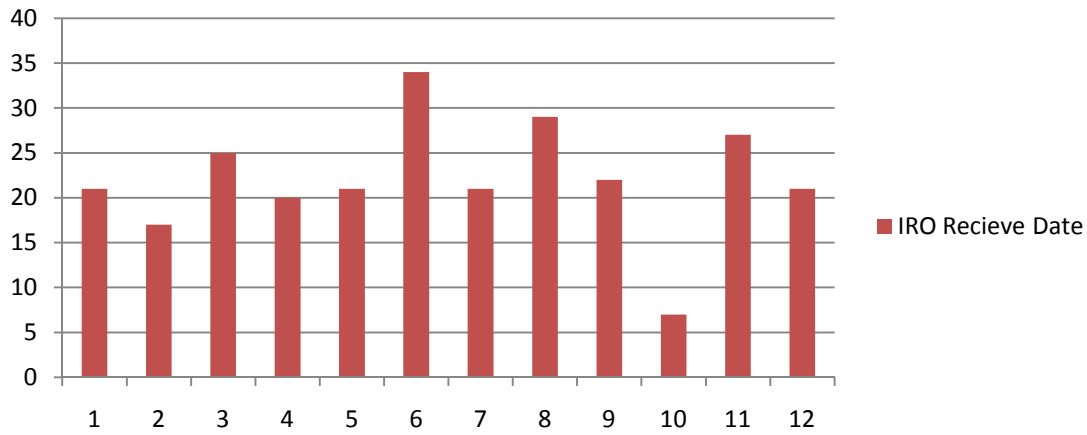

CPC Investigation Outcomes by Alleged SOP Violation

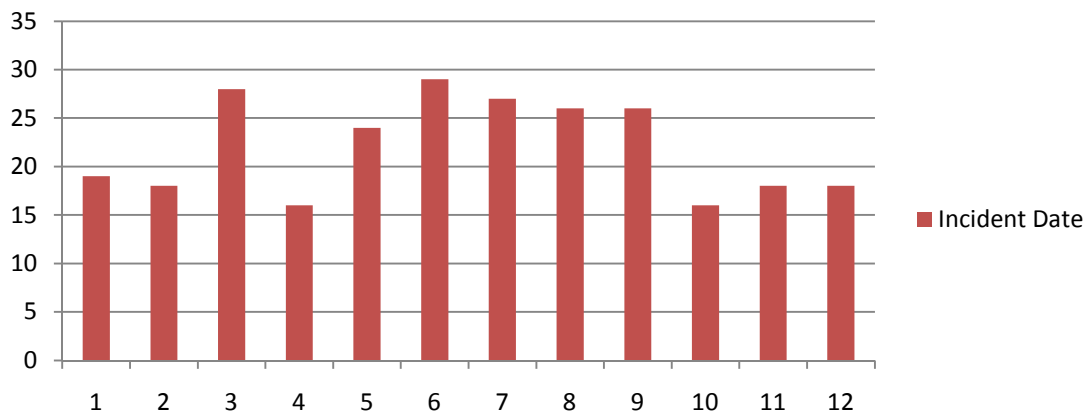

The following section indicates the outcome of a CPC investigation with regard to the number of findings for a SOP violation. The definition of findings is taken from § 3-43-12 of the SOP Manual. "IRO would find" indicates that during the review process the IRO suggested the specified SOP as a possible violation by the officer. Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs)

Summary of Citizen Complaint

Annual Report- 2009

The following is a list of Citizen Police Complaints (CPCs) submitted or reviewed during 2009. For each CPC there is listed a summary of the complaint as described by the citizen, the officer involved by numeric code, the implicated Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) for each officer involved, the investigative finding, the IRO's review and Chief of Police's decision. The investigator is indicated as either the IRO or IA.

The CPCs received this year are numbered 001-09 through 265-09 and are listed in Section A. Completed investigations are noted. Where the investigation has not been completed, the SOP and Finding indicate: "Pending". Where the investigation had been completed but not reviewed by the IRO, the IRO Review / Chief's Decision will indicate: "pending".

Cases from prior years that were reviewed this year, are listed in Section B.

The geographic location of each incident is indicated by APD Area Command, City Council District (after redistricting), and Neighborhood Association boundaries.

030-09 Citizen called police after her neighbor displayed his middle finger to her in a rude gesture. This was one incident in a list of past incidents by her neighbor against her. When the police arrived, they were not interested in dealing with the issue at hand, dismissed her claims and focused on her, alleging she was the problem. When the officers went to her neighbor's she wanted to know what was said and she thought she had the right to be in her yard, but the officers yelled at her repeatedly to get inside her house so she could not hear what was said. She wanted the incident documented, but she did not think the officers wrote a report.

The Officer allegedly responded "Why should you be treated any different," and, "Take the ticket or I am going to have your truck towed and impounded." Citizen further complained that Officer spoke to him in a "heavy-handed manner," which citizen did not consider necessary. 104-09 The citizen's car was in the custody and control of her son, who, along with several other young people had spent the night partying in a nearby apartment. The accident occurred when son's friend, who was alone, driving the citizen's car the next morning, ran into another car, and then left the scene. Friend was apprehended shortly after the accident. There is a dispute as to whether friend had son's permission to drive mother's car or took the car keys and operated the car without son's permission. The citizen and her son contend that the latter is the case and Officer and Sergeant contend that friend did receive the keys along with the express or implied permission to operate the vehicle. The citizen was not present during the investigation. However, when she spoke to Officer on the date of the accident, the citizen contends that Officer informed her that friend admitted he had taken the keys from son without son's permission and that Office also told her that friend would be arrested on "stolen vehicle" charges. Differing conflicting versions of what happened are attributed to the citizen's son, who, according to the citizen, has speech disabilities and has been diagnosed with mild autism. There was also a question as to which officers had interviewed son. The citizen has several complaints about "discrepancies" in the police reports including the following:

1. No charges were filed against friend for a stolen vehicle.
2. he reports did not contain a chronological narrative and witnesses were not identified or questioned.
3. Friend's address and phone numbers were not the current ones.
4. There were no entries of what son had told Officer.

The officers informed him that Home Depot had requested APD patrol their parking lot, but the officers did not provide him any proof of such a request. He later went into Home Depot and spoke to an employee who knew nothing of any such request. The officer did a visual search of his vehicle, which he felt was improper and a violation. He asked for the officers' identities, which they provided. The one officer sternly telling the other to watch him upset him and he believed the overall contact a violation.

125-09 Citizen stated that officers arrived with the father of their granddaughter for his summer visitation. However, he had not complied with various requirements within the court order. He should not have been entitled to take custody of the child until he could show he was in compliance. Officer did not take any of that in consideration and had already determined that the child would go with her father. Despite their numerous attempts to show him how the father had not complied with the order, the officer was dismissive and condescending with them. The officer only wanted to make matters worse by bringing their daughter into the situation and unrealistically insisted they talk to their lawyer that night.

132-09 Citizen's husband, was shot by a would be robber at a Wells Fargo ATM. Citizen's husband was attempting to escape from his assailant by driving away. Realizing that he had been shot, citizen's husband drove to his wife's (citizen's) workplace, a Giant Gas Station at 135 Candelaria NW. Citizen called 911 and got assistance immediately. Officers at the gas station attempted to get information for a report but had difficulty doing so before husband was transported to UNM Hospital. Husband was released from the hospital the following Sunday, June 14, 2009. While he was at the hospital, husband was photographed by an APD officer; however, he was not interviewed at that time. On Monday, June 15, 2009, husband sought a police report on his shooting; and, after being told to wait a couple of days, he went to the Valley Substation on Wednesday, June 17th. When no report was located at the Valley Substation, husband went to the records unit downtown, and still was unable to locate a police report. On June 26, 2009, the citizen and her husband contacted Channels 7 and 13, and their reporters were unable to locate a police report. On July 2, 2009, Detective went to citizen's work place about 1:00 PM, and told citizen that a mistake had been made and the report had gone to the wrong department. Detective, who was planning to be on vacation until July 10th, told citizen that his partner would look into the case. When Detective returned from his vacation he told citizen that the video from the ATM had been obtained and that the incident would be put on Crime Stoppers. An oral statement was taken from husband, and husband did not believe he was interviewed at the gas station where things were pretty chaotic before he was taken to the hospital. Husband was frustrated because he could not initially get any information from the police regarding the incident, and he was sent from place to place. H stated that an unidentified "graveyard officer" came to the gas station where his wife worked and told her this kind of thing was normal for Albuquerque. Citizen advised the officers who came to her place of employment following the shooting that she was the wife. She told them that husband had been shot at the Wells Fargo Bank, and she did not ask for the names of any of the officers. The officers took notes. After a few days, when no one from the police department had contacted them, citizen started emailing government officials and the media complaining about the lost paper work. Telephone calls to APD were not returned. She could not identify the "graveyard" officer. Citizen complained that nothing was being done about her husband who had been shot. She felt the neglect would have been the same if he had died.

142-09 The citizen was awakened by loud knocking at her apartment door and threats to break in by an unidentified female. The person or persons knocking and demanding entrance or they would kick the door in, did not clearly identify themselves; nevertheless, the citizen opened her door and encountered six police officers, including one female officer, on her front deck. The citizen was asked if she were "Jane", and she said "yes" and was immediately handcuffed. The citizen was then asked if her last name was "Doe" and she answered "No". She indicated that her last name was "Doe" and when asked her maiden name she responded that she had never been married. One of the officers went through the citizen's purse, opened her wallet, and extracted her driver's license, all without permission. When the citizen gave the police her social security number and date of birth, the police remarked that the DOB checked with the one they had for "Jane Doe". After being held in handcuffs for ten minutes while the police checked out her identity from information she gave them and her car registration, the handcuffs were removed and the police went to another nearby address where Jane Doe resided. As the police were leaving the citizen's apartment, her landlord, John Doe, assured them that the citizen was not Jane Doe a former tenant of his, and he directed them to Doe's nearby residence. During her encounter with the police, the citizen was never shown a warrant or told the reason for her detention. The citizen contends that she was unlawfully detained, her home was illegally entered, and her civil rights were violated by the police.

181-09 A Sergeant telephoned citizen and advised him that a complaint had been filed against him by Attorney Tom Clear's office for telephone harassment. Sgt. told citizen that he had made 80 Calls to Clear's office that day and citizen responded that he had only made two calls that day. Citizen told the Sgt. that calling him on the phone was not proper procedure and that he should have asked citizen to come in so that his attorney could have accompanied him. Sgt. then asked him, "What are you now, a cop?", and citizen replied that he was familiar with the legal field. Citizen also stated that Sgt. had not asked him any questions during the telephone conversation. Sgt. told citizen to stop calling Clear and then hung up the phone. Citizen felt that Sgt. was acting at Clear's direction which citizen considered improper. Citizen surmised that Clear gave Sgt. the wrong address for him on purpose so that a warrant would issue for non appearance. Citizen, a former Clear employee and Clear were involved in an ongoing employment dispute and there were numerous phone calls between the two men. Citizen asked Sgt. for the identity and phone number of his supervisor, which Sgt. provided. The supervisor was not called. During the phone call citizen claimed to have been introduced to Sgt. in Clear's office previously by Angela, an employee of Clear's and a friend of the Sgt. Sgt. said that they had not met. Citizen saw Sgt. in Clear's office several times. When citizen failed to appear in court in response to the summons sent to his old address, a warrant was issued, and subsequently citizen was arrested by Officer and other officers. Citizen stated that he was afraid for his life when he was arrested. Citizen stated that Rick, Clear's office manager, or Angela called Sgt. to tell him there was a warrant out on him.

040-08 Citizen called 242-COPS to report her 13 year old daughter as a runaway after finding a note from the daughter. The citizen was waiting for the police to arrive when she received a phone call from an officer. She gave him the phone number to a boy that she believed her daughter to be with and the officer informed her that it was not against the law in the state of New Mexico to run away. The officer told the citizen the phone number was a Cricket Wireless Phone in Santa Fe. The officer then called the boy and spoke with the daughter and informed the citizen the her daughter was okay and safe. The citizen feels that APD swept the issue under the rug and referred her to Albuquerque Public Schools. APS didn't know why APD told her to contact them. The citizen then called the police department in Santa Fe and they told her to call them once she got into Santa Fe and who to talk to. Two sheriff deputies went and got her daughter from boy's home. The citizen now believes that APD is a JOKE.

194-08 Citizen was confronted at her home by two CYFD workers seeking to place a 24 hour hold on her two small children. She fled with the children in her car and was pursued from Central and Atrisco to Alameda and Louisiana by the police. Her car was hemmed in by APD vehicles at Alameda and Louisiana and after she locked her car doors, an APD officer knocked out the front window of her car. Citizen was removed, placed on the ground, handcuffed, and taken into custody. Citizen alleges that she was forcefully removed from her car and thrown on the ground where she yelled that the car was moving since she had not placed its gear shift into park. While citizen was on the ground she alleges that some officer said, "Shut the fuck up, you stupid bitch." An officer stopped the in-gear car. Citizen claims to have suffered burns to her abdomen from the hot pavement, cuts on her head and face from being stepped on, and an asthma attack while she was on the ground. Her children were removed from her car and placed in a police car. Citizen was not allowed to speak to her children. Although the police were informed by CYFD that citizen had kidnapped her two children and that she had two felony warrants outstanding, Citizen denies these allegations. Citizen claims that she has never resisted officers and that because of her size she was no threat to at least 20 officers. Citizen, who has retained counsel, refused to be interviewed by the Internal Affairs Investigator to whom this case was assigned by the Independent Review Officer.

246-08 Citizen complained that following a dispute between the citizen's 8 year old son, MP, and a 10 year old neighbor boy, Officers apparently assumed that MP was guilty; they handcuffed, searched, and detained MP, an African American. The other child, a Caucasian was allowed to have his parents present when the police questioned him, while MP was not. When a witness told police that MP had done nothing wrong, the police asked her to leave. When the police told the citizen that her child, MP, would be taken to the juvenile detention center, they were mistaken since the center does not accept such young children. At the police substation, the citizen's child was treated rudely and it took two hours before a sergeant at the station could locate the citizen's child. Part VIII - Police Oversight Commission: Appeal Reviews of Citizen Police

This Part lists the appeals requested to be heard by the Police Oversight Commission (POC). Pursuant to § 9-4-1-9(A) of the Ordinance, citizens who were dissatisfied with the outcome of their complaint as contained in the dispositional letter from the Chief of Police, could appeal to the POC.

Each appeal is listed by Citizen Police Complaint (CPC) number. A brief description of the case is given. A timeline is provided of when the dispositional letter by the Chief was issued, the date the citizen requested an appeal, when it was first set, if it was reset and then when the case was heard. The date of the decision of the POC is indicated and when a request was made for the CAO to review the decision of the POC.

The officer involved is referred to by the numeric code assigned by the IRO. It should be noted that no officer ever appeared before the POC. The Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) implicated in the complaint is listed, accompanied by the original Internal Affairs (IA) investigative finding and whether or not the IRO concurred with the IA finding. The recommendation of the POC is indicated as well as whether or not the Chief followed the recommendation. Finally, any decision by the CAO is indicated.

As with all Parts of the Report, the CPC and Officer numbers can be cross-referenced to other Parts of the Report for further information on a particular case or officer.

Citizen was arrested for domestic violence. While on the way to MDC the citizen was discussing Christianity and the officer stated he was an Atheist and did not believe in God. An argument began. The citizen told the officer he needed the restroom and the officer refused so the citizen urinated in the unit. The officer pulled over and began punching and kicking the citizen. The officer and the citizen started on their way to MDC again and the citizen banged his head on the plexie glass. Officer pulled over a second time and yanked citizen out by his hair calling the citizen a "Long haired mother fucker". The officer began hitting on the citizen again. The citizen then soiled himself and the officer put him in a PRS. Officer told nurse that citizen was passed out drunk. The nurse did a breathalyzer and it registered as a 0. The nurse had another nurse come look at his injuries because the injuries were inconsistent with the officers stories. The nurse told him to file with Internal Affairs because he was not the only citizen that had been abused and brought in to them by this officer.

Summary of Complaint

Citizen complained that following a dispute between the citizen's 8 year old son, MP, and a 10 year old neighbor boy, Officers apparently assumed that MP was guilty; they handcuffed, searched, and detained MP, an African American. The other child, a Caucasian was allowed to have his parents present when the police questioned him, while MP was not. When a witness told police that MP had done nothing wrong, the police asked her to leave. When the police told the citizen that her child, MP, would be taken to the juvenile detention center, they were mistaken since the center does not accept such young children. At the police substation, the citizen's child was treated rudely and it took two hours before a sergeant at the station could locate the citizen's child. The citizen believes that she and her child were mistreated because they are African Americans.
