Mission Statement

“Advancing Constitutional Policing and Accountability for the Albuquerque Police Department and the Albuquerque Community”

Introduction

The Civilian Police Oversight Agency (CPOA) is an independent agency of the city of Albuquerque, neither part of the city government or the city council. The CPOA consists of the Police Oversight Board (POB) and an Administrative office (the Agency) led by the Executive Director. CPOA receives, investigates, and reviews complaints and commendations submitted by community members concerning the Albuquerque Police Department (APD). The CPOA is mandated by the Police Oversight Ordinance (§ 9-4-1-1 through 9-4-1-14) to submit semi-annual reports to the city council, and the information contained in this semi-annual report is for period beginning January 1st, 2018 through June 30th, 2018. This report is divided into the following sections:

- I. Complaint Details
- II. Employee and Citizen Characteristics
- III. Serious Use of Force & Officer Involved Shooting Incidents
- IV. Public Outreach by CPOA
- V. Policy issues at APD & Policy Recommendations by CPOA
- VI. POB Policy Activities
- VII. Recommended Legislative Amendments to Oversight Ordinance

The first section, 'Complaint Details,' begins with a broad look at complaints including the total number of complaints received and considered during the first six months of 2018. This section also covers other details including the number of employees involved in those complaints, associated allegations, time period to close complaint investigations, complaints received by APD bureau and division, comparison of complaints received and closed with previous year. Furthermore, the section provides information related to the source of complaints and also identifies the disposition of complaints as required by the ordinance.

The next section, 'Employee and Citizen Characteristics,' reports demographic information on both complainants and the employees involved in the complaint. The information includes gender and race of both complainant and employee, type of employee, duration of employment, race/ethnicity of employees and complainants, and employees with repeated complaints. The section also highlights the citizen information in terms of number of complaints received as well as closed.

Third section 'Serious Use of Force' and 'Officer Involved Shooting' provide a snapshot of number of incidents that occurred during the first half of 2018. Section four will highlight outreach initiatives undertaken by the Agency or POB during the reporting period. The last three sections policy issues at APD & policy recommendations by CPOA, POB policy activities and legislative amendments to oversight ordinance will also be reported as required by the ordinance.

Complaint Process and Finding Categories

Civilian police complaint can either be filed with the police department or with the CPOA itself. If the complaint is filed with the police, Internal Affairs must refer the complaint to the CPOA within three business days. Once the complaint is received by the CPOA, there are seven days (the ordinance does not specify if this is calendar days) to assign the complaint to an investigator. The CPOA will mediate complaints, whenever appropriate and agreed upon by the parties. If the case is not appropriate for mediation, the Agency (CPOA) will open a case and assign it to an investigator. The assigned investigator will interview witnesses, obtain evidence, and interview the APD personnel involved, when appropriate. Once the investigation of the complaint is completed, the Executive Director of the CPOA will review the complaint and results of the investigation to determine if there are any violations of Albuquerque Police Department Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs). The investigator may close the complaint following an initial investigation or the investigator may take it to a full investigation. A complaint can be resolved without a full investigation for the following reasons:

- the investigator verifies completed reports are ready and do not constitute misconduct by an employee,
- the investigator cannot minimally substantiate allegations,
- the policy violations are minor,
- allegations are duplicative,
- lack of information to complete the investigation,
- the complainant requests a withdrawal of the complaint, or
- the complaint was lodged against someone who is not an APD employee.

After receiving the complaint, the CPOA has ninety-calendar days to complete the administrative investigation. A thirty-calendar day extension may be requested by the Chief of Police and must be approved in writing by the APD Chief. With extension granted, the CPOA has a total of 120 days to complete the investigation. In some cases, if the complaint is not filed with the CPOA immediately after the incident, the body camera footage of the incident may not be available before the CPOA investigators.

Within thirty days of completing the investigation the final approval of the investigation should be performed as well as the determination and imposition of the appropriate discipline. POB reviews the outcome of every complaint at monthly board meetings where they approve or delay the investigative findings of CPOA. It is possible that during this review period the POB will return the complaint to the CPOA thus requiring additional time to resolve the complaint. The additional amount of time given to resolve the complaint is not explicitly specified in the ordinance.

Upon approval of findings and recommendations by the POB, the CPOA Executive Director by the ordinance must submit a public record letter to the civilian complainant with a copy to the APD Chief of Police with the findings and recommendations as approved. At this point, the civilian complainant has (30) days to request a hearing. If no hearing is requested the Chief of Police must notify the POB and the original complainant of his or her final disciplinary decision. The Chief of Police retains sole authority to impose discipline to an Albuquerque Police Department employee for violations of the Albuquerque Police Department Standard Operating Procedures. The person who filed the complaint may appeal the POB's findings and the Chief's disciplinary findings. If the investigation exceeds nine months, the Executive Director of the CPOA must report the reason to the POB. The Civilian Police Oversight Agency does not conduct criminal investigations.

There are six possible findings that the APD and the CPOA use:

- Sustained - Where the investigation determines, by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged misconduct did occur.
- Not Sustained - Where the investigation is unable to determine, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the alleged misconduct occurred.
- Exonerated - Where the investigation determines, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the alleged conduct did occur but did not violate APD policies, procedures, or training.
- Unfounded - Where the investigation determines, by clear and convincing evidence, that the alleged misconduct did not occur or did not involve the subject officer.
- Sustained Violation Not Based on Original Complaint (Sustained/NBOOC) - Where the investigation determines, by a preponderance of the evidence, that misconduct did occur that was not alleged in the original complaint but that was discovered during the misconduct investigation.
- Administratively Closed - Where the policy violations are minor, the allegations are duplicative, or investigation cannot be conducted because of the lack of information in the complaint.

Data

As required by the ordinance, this report highlight complaints received and closed along with the disposition, demographic information of employees and complainants, number of serious uses of force incidents and officer involved shootings. It also provides information regarding long-term planning, policy recommendations and public outreach efforts by CPOA and policy activities of the POB. Notably, due to unavailability of access to APD's warehouse, it only reports on the information that is provided by the APD and information that is available on IA pro database. These are several limitations and missing data points that will be mentioned with the sections of this report. The data sources used to create this report include:

- I. Datasets from paragraph 298 of CASA provided to Independent Monitor by APD
- II. APD IA Pro database
- III. Citizen Complaint data at CPOA

Commendations

Individuals can submit commendations or “Job Well Done” forms for APD employees who provide exemplary service. Commendations are unsolicited attestation that the employee has done something extra special for which they should be recognized. APD gives commendations and awards to officers whose actions rise above the expected standards of key departmental values, such as honor, courage and commitment to community service. Number of commendations received by involved officer’s bureau for the period of January 2018 to June 2018 is mentioned in the box on the right.

In total, APD employees were identified in (2,151) commendations. The largest percentage of APD employees who were the recipient of (605) commendations (28%) belonged to Field Services East division. However, a smaller but still sizeable number of commendations (576) (26%) and (306) (14%) were received by employees in Field Services West Division and Investigative Bureau. Male employees represented (1704) or (79%) of all commendations while Female employees were part of (435) or (20%) of total commendations received. There is missing data for (12) commendations which does not identify employee involved.

Citizen Commendation Letters

One citizen in the letter stated:

'An officer demonstrated extraordinary attentiveness in my neighborhood and showed remarkable courtesy towards myself and my wife'.

Another citizen letter praised an APD officer:

'Officers were very compassionate, polite and concerned for us. They made sure to stay until all our questions and concerns were answered'.

One citizen noted that:

'the presence of officers on horseback have positive impact on the neighborhoods (business and residential) and is extremely thankful for their presence.'

Another letter from a citizen stated:

'Officer was the most polite, professional person I have ever met in my life. When finished with report, I told the officer about my wife medical condition, the officer offered to give the kidney to my wife. The officer deserves highest commendation for professionalism and care. Officer truly is a saint.'

Section I. Complaint Details

Any person claiming to be aggrieved by actions of the police may file a complaint against the department or any of its employees. From January 1st 2018 to June 30th 2018, CPOA received (153) and closed (149) civilian police complaints. Of those complaints that were closed, (88) complaints were pending at the start of the year, suggesting CPOA closed (61) of the (153) complaints it received during the current reporting period (about 40 %). Note that the agency has recorded more complaints than (153) and only (153) are considered. The reason why all complaints received are not investigated is due to some complaints having no or irrelevant information provided by complainant, some complaints not meant for APD employees and some regular complainants tend to file complaints without reason leading them not to be considered.

Complaint Closure Time

Complaints closed in the reporting period by the number of days took for closure is underlined in this section. (64) out of the (149) complaints (42% approximately) were closed in less than 90 days. As noted earlier, all complaints must be completed within 90 days unless an extension has been requested and granted. (10) complaints were closed between 90 - 120 days, (15) between 121 - 150 days, (13) between 151 - 180 days, (15) between 181 days and 9 months, and (32) in more than 9 months. Major factors causing the delayed completion of some complaints include lack of information on complaints and limited investigators at the agency working on clearing backlog of complaints from previous years. Identifying other factors causing delayed closure of complaints should be explored and reported.

Complaints Received, Closed, Allegation & Employees

Civilian police complaint can include one or more allegation of misconduct and can also implicate more than one APD employee. Figure 1 below shows the number of associated allegations and employees involved for the complaints that were received and closed for the reporting period. (153) complaints received during the first half of 2018 included (167) allegations involving (106) APD employees. For complaints received, there is missing data for (131) allegations and (62) employee(s) associated with those complaints. Similarly, (149) complaint closed during the reporting period involved (170) allegations of misconduct for (105) employees. For complaints closed, there is missing allegation data for (124) complaints and missing employee data for (56) complaints.

Complaint Status

Once complaint is received, it goes through several stages of investigative process. These categories are defined as Initial, Active, Forwarded and Closed. For this reporting period, (153) complaints were received and out of those (13) are in the initial stage (received and not assigned to investigator), (41) complaints are in active stage (investigator assigned), (6) are forwarded (to internal affairs) and (93) are closed/completed.

Employees Involved in Complaints Received

This section highlights the number of complaints received and number of employees implicated in those complaints. Of the total (153) complaints received during the reporting period, (73) complaints involved one employee. (10) complaints involved two employees and (5) complaints received concerned four employees. Further breakdown of the complaints received along with the number of employees involved is highlighted in table 1 below. There is missing data for (62) complaints received which does not provide information on employees involved.

Complaint Comparison with 2017

Figure 2.1 and 2.2 presents the number of complaints received and closed by the agency during the first half of 2018 compared to the first and second half of 2017. The information provided in this section will highlight the trend of complaints, whether they increased or decreased compared to 2017. Several questions could be answered with this analysis. First, more complaints received might suggest an occurrence of more police misconduct incidents or fewer complaints can suggest that police conduct has improved. An increase in complaints received can also suggest that citizens are now more aware of the complaint procedure as compared to the previous year leading them to file more complaints, which can be attributed to better community outreach by the agency. Secondly, a comparison of complaints closed with the previous year will identify why more or fewer cases are completed in the current period. The information will highlight whether there is a need to staff more investigators due to fewer complaint closure and will also show efficacy of investigators if they are closing more complaints in the same time period. Such datasets will help better identify the trends and will inform the policy makers to make better decisions.

Complaints received during the current reporting period has decreased to (153) compared to (172) complaints which were received during the first half of 2017 as seen in figure 2.1 below. The second half of 2017 saw a significant decline from (172) to (96) complaints received. As shown in figure 2.2, complaints closed during the current reporting period has increased to (149) compared to (61) complaints which were closed during same time period in 2017 and (49) complaints that were closed during the second half of 2017.

Complaint Source

Complaints received by the agency can come through different sources. A citizen can personally reach the agency by calling or coming to the office to file a complaint, they can email, send the complaint through the regular mail, or fax the complaint. Complaint forms are available online, at all police stations, libraries and community centers across Albuquerque. For the period of January to June 2018, out of the (153) complaints received, (38) reached the agency through online self-reporting by citizens, source of (12) complaints was written walk-in. (63) out of (153) complaints that were received had missing information related to the source suggesting the need for better intake of complaints process. Further breakdown of complaint source is highlighted in figure 3 below.

Complaint Disposition/Findings

Following the completion of investigations for civilian police complaints, CPOA recommends one of several disposition/findings. These include Unfounded (investigation determined misconduct did not occur), Sustained (alleged misconduct did occur), Not Sustained (unable to determine by preponderance of evidence whether misconduct occurred), Exonerated (Alleged conduct occurred but did not violate APD policies, procedures or training), Administratively Closed (minor policy violation, duplicative allegations, or cannot conduct investigation due to lack of information in the complaint) and Sustained Violation (finding not based on original complaint). Graph on the right provides a snapshot of investigated complaints that are arrayed by recommended disposition. The information is collected from paragraph 298 data sets provided to Independent Monitor by APD. Most of the available data is missing information regarding employee, allegation and findings, and only (48) were assigned a finding during this reporting period.

Section II. Employee and Citizen Characteristics

Section 9-4-1-10-B of the ordinance require the reporting of information pertinent to subject officers and complainants in the semi-annual reporting. This section is divided into two sub-sections. First section will provide information related to APD employees who were implicated in complaints while second section reports on demographic characteristics of citizen complainants for both complaints received and closed for the reporting period of January 1st 2018 to June 30th 2018.

Employee Characteristics

Complaints can be filed against both Sworn and Non-sworn employees of Albuquerque Police Department. Total of (80) civilian police complaints were received against sworn APD employees while (22) complaints were received against non-sworn employees. (85) sworn APD employees were involved in those (80) complaints whereas (21) non-sworn employees were involved in (22) complaints received. Out of (153) total complaints received for the reporting period, (102) included information regarding sworn and non-sworn APD employees while (62) complaints had missing employee information.

Note that one complaint can have more than one employee involved so we might have information of one employee in a particular complaint but that complaint might have missing information regarding other employees. (62) complaints with missing information will have some information relating to involved employees but will also be reported under the category of complaints with missing employee information. For complaints that were closed in the reporting period, (81) complaints involved (90) sworn APD employees. (17) civilian police complaints were against (17) non-sworn employees. Out of (149) complaints that were closed, (98) complaints involved sworn and non-sworn employees while (56) has missing officer information.

Complaints Received for Sworn APD Employees

The data from paragraph 298 provided to the Independent Monitor by APD has missing employee information involving (62) complaints which were received for the current reporting period. Major factor for missing information has already been discussed in the previous section. Another reason can be attributed to lack of information provided by complainants regarding officer’s name and badge number when filing the complaint. Breakdown of sworn employee rank, ethnicity and gender, bureau and division at the time of complaint received can be seen below. Out of (85) sworn employees, (41) were Hispanic while (44) were Non-Hispanic. (72) of those were Male employees while (13) were Female. The youngest sworn employee receiving complaint was 23 years old while the oldest recipient was 62 years old.

Complaints Received for Non-sworn APD Employees

Graphs below further identifies non-sworn employees by number of complaints received. Total of (22) Civilian Police Complaints were received involving (21) non-sworn APD employees. Out of (21) employees, (8) were Hispanic and (13) were non-Hispanic. (11) males while (10) female non-sworn APD employees were implicated in those complaints. The youngest non-sworn employee receiving complaint was 20 years old while the oldest was 58 years old. Further breakdown of non-sworn employee characteristics is mentioned below. Paragraph 298 data identified few Police Officer 1st class, Patrolman 2nd class/lateral among the category of non-sworn APD employees which suggest clear data discrepancy. This is mainly due to overwriting of data in the APD warehouse which does not retain historical information on employees.

Complaints Closed for Sworn APD Employees

As previously discussed, one complaint closed might include more than one employee. Some complaints closed had missing employee data due to lack of information in the complaint or the complainant has not mentioned employee name or badge number. Table 4 below provide the breakdown of sworn employee rank, ethnicity and gender, bureau and division for complaints closed during the reporting period. Most of the sworn APD employees for complaints closed, nearly (52%) belonged to field services east bureau and (27%) are from the northeast division. About (65%) employees were non-Hispanic while (76%) of them were male.

Out of (17), (9) were Hispanic and (8) were non-Hispanic. Complaints closed involved (12) Male and (5) Female non-sworn APD employees. The youngest employee receiving complaint was 20 years old while the oldest was 58 years old. Paragraph 298 datasets identified Police Officer 1st class and Patrolman 2nd class among non-sworn employees which suggest clear data discrepancy, and is mainly due to the reason identified earlier.

Citizen/Complainant Characteristics:

For the current reporting period, the agency received (153) civilian police complaints and out of those, (131) complaints were assigned a CPC number involving (127) citizens. Some complaints were duplicative so they were assigned the same CPC number. Some complaints were out of jurisdiction meaning they were not meant for APD personnel and some were referred to Internal Affairs due to criminal allegations involved. The data provided in this section highlight the complainants’ race, gender, ethnicity, sexual orientation, mental health status, age, housing status (homeless), and also highlights average number of days for citizen to file a complaint from the occurrence of incident.

Again, there is missing data or data not reported by citizens regarding the demographic characteristics, specifically due to lack of information provided in the complaint form. The source of data for reporting is from the complaint form ‘optional demographic section’. Some complainants do not feel comfortable to provide information about sexual orientation or information related to mental health issues. Most of the complaints received over the phone has missing demographic information of the complainants. Another reason for missing information is due to old complaint forms which was not capturing all the information that is in place in the newer complaint form. Notably, some complaints are filed by citizens for other individuals. Some demographic information captured might not have demographic information of actual complainant rather it will have information of those filling the complaint form. Sub-sections below highlight demographic information of citizen complainants from January 1st 2018 to June 30th 2018.

Complainant Gender

This section focus attention on the gender of complainants represented by complaints received during this reporting period. Female complainants comprised of the larger number (52) compare to male complainants (48). Several complaints (27) did not provide information about gender in the complaint form.

Complainant Race/Ethnicity

Data on race and ethnicity are essential to identify patterns and population segments that are filing civilian police complaints. It will help identify problems and population at risk, which is the crucial first step in providing policymakers the tool for effective decision-making. The data will help understand the underlying causes of problem faced by specific group of population due to police misconduct, will ensure police officers are complying with civil rights law and will also help detect evidence of discrimination against certain segments of population. race and ethnic classification of citizen complainants for the current reporting period.

Complainant Sexual Orientation

Per the CASA agreement, DOJ mandated the agency and APD to collect data regarding the sexual orientation of citizens to identify possible biases among specific population segments. Discrimination and harassment by law enforcement based on individual’s sexual orientation hinders the process of effective policing, breaks community trust and prevent officers from serving and protecting communities. For the complaints received during this period, most of the complainants were heterosexual (56), while a significantly larger number (61) complainants did not provide information regarding their sexual orientation. This is due to factors already discussed in the prior sections.

Complainant Mental Health Status

This section provides information pertinent to mental health status of complainants. Under CASA agreement, ‘APD and the Civilian Police Oversight Agency shall track allegations regarding misconduct involving individuals who are known to be homeless or have a mental illness, even if the complainant does not specifically label the misconduct as such’. CPOA updated the complaint form to align with the Department of Justice requirements by adding mental health and homelessness question. For this reporting period (65) out of (127) complainants reported they had no mental health issues. (14) complainants said they have mental illness while (48) complaints had missing data due to factors already mentioned in prior sections. Data analysis identified one individual who filed three separate complaints reporting they have ‘no’ mental illness in one complaint while responding ‘yes’ to mental illness question in other two occasions.

Complainant Housing Status

Albuquerque has a large segment of population which is homeless. Police encounters with such population segment on the daily basis. To identify patterns of police misconduct against homeless population, the data in this section will be essential in providing information about the complainants, whether they are homeless or were homeless at the time of incident.

Not Reported

<small>Source: CPOA Complaint Intake Forms</small>

(11) complainants stated they were homeless, while (78) reported they were not homeless. There is also the issue of missing data for (38) complainants who did not provide information on their housing status. (1) individual in two separate complaints stated they are 'homeless' in one complaint while 'not homeless' in the second complaint filed within one month which might question the validity of data which has been collected or the honesty of complainants. (76) complainants reported they were not homeless at the time of incident while (5) reported they were homeless when the encounter with the officer occurred. Again (46) complainants did not provide information whether they were homeless or not at the time of incident.

Average time to file complaint from Date of Incident

Most of the complainants tend to file the complaint within the first week of the incident. Looking at the average number of days citizens take to file a complaint from the date of incident, almost 55% citizens filed complaint against APD personnel within a week from the incident. (22) filed it the same day. There were (3) complainants among (131) complaints who filed it 1224, 1299 and 1482 days after the incident occurred. The reason why that is the case is unknown.

Section III. Serious Use of Force and Officer Involved Shooting Incidents

The information underlined in this section will report on the number and type of Serious Use of Force incidents for this reporting period and will later provide information on Officer Involved Shooting cases. There was a total of (46) serious use of force incidents involving (46) citizens and (79) officers. There was a total of (7) officers involved shooting cases involving (5) citizens and (7) officers from January to June 2018.

Serious Use of Force (SUOF) incidents

This section will focus on the number of SUOF incidents and type of force used by the officers. It also reports on the area command where the incident occurred, demographic information of citizens and officers involved in those incidents as well as the policy outcome highlighting whether the implication of SUOF was within APD Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) or not.

Among (46) SUOF incidents, APD officers used different type of force (107) times. Empty hand technique was used (38) times (35%) which is the highest among all types of force used. Electronic control weapons were used (15) times (14%) while serious use of force involving K9 apprehensions was used (10) times (9%). Further breakdown of the type of force used is highlighted in the type of force used section on the right.

Looking at the demographic characteristics of the citizens, (46) citizens were involved in (46) SUOF incidents. Out of those, (25) were Hispanic and (21) were Non-Hispanic.

The majority of citizens against whom serious force was used were Male (32) compare to Female (14). The data also shows that (5) out of (46) individuals were homeless while (21) were not homeless. Paragraph 298 datasets is missing information for (20) citizens regarding their housing status against whom serious force was used. Racial classification of citizens show that largest percentage of citizens were white (37) or (80%) while (5) citizens were Black and (4) were Native American. The youngest citizen was 17 years old while the oldest citizen against whom serious force was used was 60 years old. There was one citizen among all cases who was not arrested while all other individuals involved in SUOF cases were arrested.

Note that (1) case was missing information regarding the X and Y coordinates. The mapping of exact location where the incident occurred is highlighted in the figure below.

Policy Outcome of SUOF Incidents

Analyzing whether SUOF by officers was within the APD's Standard Operating Procedures can provide useful details to the policy makers in determining if policies need modification or officers need more training. In (46) SUOF incidents for the current reporting period, there were (79) officers involved. It is important to highlight that one case can have more than one citizen and officer involved. The use of serious force by one officer might be justified in accordance to the policy but the second officer might have used force which was against policy. The information in this section identifies type of force used by the officer and whether it is within APD policies or not.

Serious force was used (107) times during this reporting period. Policy outcome for SUOF falls into (4) categories. First is 'Within Policy (36)' suggesting the application of force is justified and the officer dealt with the individual in accordance with APD SOPs and will not face any consequences of his/her actions. Second is 'Out of Policy (4)' meaning force application was not in accordance to APD policies and disciplinary action can be taken against the involved officer. Third category 'Within Policy- Secondary Policy Shortfall (5)' means that the force applied was within policy but other policy issues not related to force application were identified during the investigation. Fourth category 'Policy Outcome Pending (62)' shows cases for which the SUOF investigation against officer(s) involved is still under review.

Officer Involved Shooting (OIS) incidents

As per CASA agreement between the City of Albuquerque and the Department of Justice, APD must report on all the cases which involve firearm discharge or shooting by APD officers. The DOJ in two-year long investigation determined that although most force used by APD officers was reasonable, a significant amount of deadly and less lethal force was excessive and constituted an ongoing risk to the public. The ordinance states that the CPOA review and monitor all investigations related to officer involved shootings.

There was a total of (7) officer involved shooting incidents for this reporting period. (5) shooting incidents were against offenders while (2) incidents involved animals. Officer's from Southeast area division were involved in (4) while officers from Northeast, Valley and Special investigation division were involved in (1) incident each. All the officers involved had a rank of 1st class police officers and among those (5) were male and (2) were female.

Section IV. Public Outreach by CPOA

The section will present information on all public outreach initiatives undertaken by the Board and Executive Director including public speaking, public safety announcements, public information brochures on oversight process for this reporting period. In 2014, the Civilian Police Oversight Agency Ordinance was amended to include a community outreach component to the police oversight efforts. As stated in the Ordinance (O-13-2016), the CPOA shall develop, implement, and from time to time amend as necessary, a program of community outreach aimed at soliciting public input from the broadest segment of the community in terms of geography, culture, ethnicity, and socio-economics. The CPOA shall employ or designate a full-time staff member within the administrative office dedicated to community outreach efforts. The CPOA shall report its community outreach efforts to the City Council on semi-annual basis (Section 9-4-1-4-C-1).

“Outreach will promote the mission of the POB and be the bridge for communication with the community”

Beginning January 2018, the CPOA maintained a steady involvement with the Community Policing Councils (CPCs). Executive Director Harness attended 36 monthly community meetings on behalf of the agency and was invited to co-present with assistant Monitor Dr. Rickman and CPC Manager, Chris Sylvan during a quarterly CPC Training session in April. The Agency’s participation with APD’s CPCs has been a vital component in building positive working relationships with community members, as well as, various leaders within APD.

Other community outreach initiatives took place with community organizations such as, Health Care for the Homeless, the agency actively participated as a guest speaker at their annual “Know Your Rights” event. The MLK Foundation hosted a special Amici and Stakeholder meeting to allow forward discussions regarding CASA compliance goals. The Native American Navajo Nation Summit invited the agency to present on the Police Oversight Agency’s role and resources to the community. The outreach subcommittee participated in a local outreach invitation to be on KOB's TV segment, Eye on New Mexico. The agency participated in several trainings and workshops that helped influence and understand cultural change in policing at a Management Conference with the New Orleans police department in Albuquerque. The Agency's Engagement Specialist participated in a special Conflict Resolution Training by Dr. Leal, who is an assistant Monitor for Community Engagement. In addition to conflict resolution, outreach was invited by the City's Human Rights Department to participate in a Native American Seminar & Fair Workshop held at Barelas Community Center. During these six months, members of the Agency actively sought community input, which lead to monumental collaborations with stakeholders and community leaders, thus truly fostering the mission statement.

Section V. Policy issues at APD & Policy Recommendations by CPOA

This section underline policy related issues at APD identified during the current period and policy suggestions given by the agency and board. The ordinance states ‘CPOA shall engage in a long-term planning process through which it identifies major problems or trends, evaluates the efficacy of existing law enforcement practices, and establishes a program of resulting policy suggestions and studies each year’ (9-4-1-4-C-5). Policy and procedures subcommittee of the Police Oversight Board is tasked with reviewing APD policies and procedures and make recommendations on changes to ensure that compliance and consistency aligns with the CPOA’s mission. The subcommittee initiated a program to have important APD policies (mostly CASA related) presented at a regular scheduled board meeting to provide public an accessible venue for review and discussions.

The quality of a department’s policy impacts the quality of services delivered to public. Effective police accountability requires the department to have clear and detailed policies regarding police encounters that involve life, liberty and well-being of people they encounter¹. Policies need to be clear and consistent throughout a department’s Standard Operating Procedures manual. Inadequate policies fail to tackle possibly illegal and unprofessional actions. CPOA and POB recognizes that a good policy recommendation has several features:

- It identifies a problem and proposes a solution,
- It is supported by data,
- It is transparent to the community,
- It is clear, understandable, trainable and acceptable to the Police Department, and
- It has a good chance of being adopted.

During the current reporting period, some of the policy related problems identified at APD and recommendations by CPOA are stated below:

Policy Issues at APD

- Police Oversight Board members and Agency’s Director pointed at a major problem regarding meetings among APD and POB/CPOA where individuals with decision-making authority from APD are not present.

¹ The New World of Police Accountability, Third Edition by Samuel E. Walker & Carol A. Archbold

- APD in policy formation process did not have a structure to tier the policies in terms of priority.
- Policies and Procedures Review Board (PPRB) at APD was not able to track online revisions made to the policy.

Policy Recommendation by POB/CPOA

- During this reporting period, board presented a policy development model suggesting that policies should contain measurables which make it possible to determine whether policy is effective or not.
- POB recommended that APD conduct exit interviews of the officers as they leave the department to help better understand the specific issues that result in high attrition rates and identify measures to address this problem.
- The agency recommended the necessity to put the role of POB in policy development process. The Executive Director suggested APD's consideration of board to simultaneously handle the review of Serious Use of Force and Officer Involved Shooting cases since they come to board after being reviewed by the Force Review Board.
- Communication between Office of Policy Analysis (OPA) and POB was a concern, the Agency recommended having an OPA representative present at POB meetings to explain prospects of future.
- CPOA recommended tracking policies while ensuring they are changed, not just discussed. It suggested the need for a standing report from OPA representative to policy subcommittee so board is aware of necessary action in order to make policy recommendations to the Chief of police.
- CPOA also recommended that Subject Matter Experts drafting and submitting policy packets to OPA should submit it to POB at the same time, so it can be discussed during subcommittee meetings which will help members make better recommendation to APD policies.

Section VI. POB Policy Activities

As defined by the Police Oversight Ordinance, the role of the Police Oversight Board is to provide policy guidance to the City Council, the Mayor and the Chief of Police. Ordinance also stated the need for the board to recommend policies related to training, programs and procedures and other matters related to APD. The ordinance states ‘The POB shall dedicate a majority (more than 50%) of its time towards policy related issues’. This section will provide a snapshot of the time board dedicated to policy related activities for the current reporting period. During the first year of its existence the POB created a set of operating procedures designed to meet their obligations per the ordinance. To serve this mission, POB created Policy and Procedures subcommittee, that reviews APD policies and procedures, and makes recommendations on changes to ensure that compliance and consistency aligns with the CPOA’s mission.

A critical function of the CPOA and POB is to be a conduit of information regarding the APD policy process to the public. This function is improved when CPOA / POB participates directly in the policy development process at APD and reports the results to the public. Previous APD and city administration did not allow the participation of POB and the Agency in policy development process. The change since the new APD and city administration have taken office is dramatic. CPOA and POB members’ recommendations and suggestions are given consideration in the APD policy process and a new era of cooperative relations has begun. For the policy development process, board member and CPOA staff regularly participate in Office of Policy Analysis (OPA) meetings where new policies and modifications to existing policies are presented for review. The members are presented with the opportunity to move the policies to the next step or can recommend changes. Board members and Executive Director also attend the Policy and Procedures Review Board (PPRB) meetings to review recommendations before the policies are finalized and sent to chief of APD for approval.

The updated version of SOP 3-52 ‘policy development process’ that became effective in April 2018 allows more participation of the POB in the policy development realm. Now all policies voted and approved by PPRB come to the POB for 30-day review before being reviewed or approved by APD Chief. If the policies are CASA related, they must go through the monitor for approval before sent to the chief. These added layers in policy development process also requires the Chief of APD to provide indication within 45 days that policy recommended by CPOA will be incorporated into policy or explanation of why recommendation will not be followed. Furthermore, the agency and the board recognize that implementation of policy should be monitored since they still require further adjustments. At subcommittee level, policies implemented are reviewed and investigators identify the policies on case to case basis and recommend changes as deemed necessary.

Section VII. Recommended Legislative Amendments to Oversight Ordinance

It is important to note that the agency and the Police Oversight Board spent countless hours and efforts discussing recommendations and changes to be proposed to City Council regarding the CPOA Ordinance for amendments. During this pivotal time, the agency and community stakeholders collaboratively identified the needs of the agency and voiced their concerns and goals to the City Council, all for the sustainability of Police Oversight and a healthy Police Department. 9-4-1-10-F section of the ordinance states that CPOA shall 'Identify any matters that may necessitate the City Council's consideration of legislative amendments to this Police Oversight Ordinance'.

Discussions regarding the amendments have been ongoing prior to this reporting period. Last changes were made in May 2016 regarding Chapter 9, Article 4, Part 1 of the Police Oversight Ordinance. There were no amendments in the ordinance for the current reporting period but there has been discussion related to proposed changes requested in previous year. There has been continued dialogue between POB and the city council to implement changes highlighted in the previous reporting period. In February 2018, Board members and Executive Director met with Councilor Benton to discuss changes, who agreed to sponsor the ordinance.
