  - Treasury Report(s) & Presentation – Cilia Aglialoro, City Treasurer, provided the Lodgers’ Tax Advisory Board Reports.
  - Update on fees and revenues now collected and reported through the Cities new online collections system.
  - QUESTION: Asked by Sean Jariwala if the system could be updated to allow for multiple users at the same time.

    ANSWER; Cilia Aglialoro is the upgrade has been requested with no response from the software/program developer.
  - Report included. FY’18 and current FY’19 revenues - Lodgers and Hospitality Revenues.

    - Lodgers Tax Revenue - Comparing FY’18 and current FY’19 revenues. Lodgers and Hospitality Revenues track month to month thru July 2018 is up by 4.36% (w/o Airbnb reporting) and up 7.65% with Airbnb reporting. The total Lodgers’ Tax revenues FY’19 revenue (July 2018) reported was $1,220,378.69. The total increase comparison difference increase for FY’19 Lodgers’ Tax (July 2017 – July 2018) was $56,738.11.

    - Hospitality Tax Revenue - The current revenues reported for FY’19 for Hospitality Tax Revenue (July 2018) was $244,075.44 compared to FY’17 (July 2017) revenues of $226,728.17 (no Airbnb reported/in place). Both fund amounts report 7.65% increase over prior year with AirBnB funds included.

    - Lodgers’ Tax Delinquent Summary Report FY’19 – Cilia Aglialoro, City Treasurer. Highlighted items: The collections amounts for revenue months July 2017 thru July 2018 for 165 lodging entities includes three accounts listed in a delinquent account status for a total amount of lodgers’ tax owed of $36,302.00. Note prior month amount of delinquent accounts was $110,856.13. Noted Route 66 Hostel under new ownership is only leasing the property. Per state law it is only the owner of a lodging establishment that can be held liable for uncollected lodgers’ tax. For this reason City Legal authorized Treasury to remove the $80,000 shown as uncollectible from Route 66 Hostel from the Delinquent Report. The owners of the business are no longer in business – however, the individuals that now lease the property are not liable the lodgers and hospitality tax not collected.

- AirBnB budgeted revenue amount for FY’19 is $479,000.00.
  - Brief discussion regarding VRBO and Home away reservation platform and plans by NM Hospitality Association to revisit/resubmit state-wide legislation that would remove the three rooms or less tax exception to collect Lodgers Tax. Additionally, the board discussed the City’s Short-Term Rental Taskforce and opportunities for Lodgers’ Tax Board to provide input. VisitABQ provided added information about NM Hospitality Association plan and timeline for introduction of legislation at the state level to remove the three rooms or less exemption from having to collect Lodgers’ and Hospitality Tax in addition to GRT tax exemption.
  - General discussion of Santa Fe City Ordinance overseeing the registration, inspection and permitting of short-term rentals.

Other discussion/question with regards to the recommended uses for the Airbnb funds being collected was regarding the ROI of the prior Incentive Fund use.

- VisitABQ was able to provide the ROI of the 2016, 2017 and 2018 Incentive Fund program.
- Board discussion with regard to the recommendation to utilize Airbnb funds as an incentive fund similar to incentive funds provided in the past.
