The City of Albuquerque Officially Opened the Daniel Webster Children's Park

On May 9, the City of Albuquerque officially opened the Daniel Webster Children's Park in honor of Albuquerque Police Department Fallen Officer Daniel Webster. The park is located near Wyoming and Copper and was built to honor Webster's legacy and dedication to the South Los Altos neighborhood. The facility surpasses the goal of inclusion, on a scale never before seen in Albuquerque. Wheelchair ramps throughout the park allow children to interact with their peers on every level. Other features take into account children with sensory processing issues such as autism, including special textures and musical elements. Hideaway areas allow for children who like the comfort of small, quiet spaces when they feel overwhelmed. The playground includes six slides, spinning elements, numerous climbing structures, ample shade and a tiny tot area, featuring a track, ideal for learning to ride a bike.

APD Hosting #TuesdayCopTalk

On the first Tuesday of each month, members of the department will answer questions and listen to the community's concerns over Twitter. Community members can ask questions or follow along with the conversation by using the hashtag #TuesdayCopTalk. The cop talk is held from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Sergeant T. Bowie and Officers W. Velasquez and T. LaForce volunteered to go to a three-year-old's birthday party following a special request for police officer attendance. The birthday boy was dressed in his own mini police uniform. The officers gave him a gift and allowed him to sit in different police cars.

Coffee with a Cop

On May 15, APD officers were at three local McDonalds locations for Coffee with a Cop. The Northwest Area Command officers participated in this two-hour event that fostered meaningful dialogue between residents and officers of the Northwest Area Command. Officers listened to the concerns of the citizens and shared perspectives on common issues. Officers answered questions regarding public safety, quality of life, and problem-oriented policing.

Law Enforcement Officer Memorial

A Law Enforcement Officer Memorial was held on May 2 at Civic Plaza which included law enforcement personnel from several agencies. The primary focus of the event was to recognize those in law enforcement who made the ultimate sacrifice and offer support to family and peers. The memorial drew about 200 individuals for a ceremony that consisted of the release of white doves along with the reading of names of those local officers who have died on duty throughout the state's history.

NMDIS Continues to Make a Positive Impact on Investigations

The New Mexico DNA Identification System (NMDIS), received 631 new convicted offender/arrestee DNA samples for the month of May, with a cumulative total of 118,136 collected. 740 new searchable DNA samples were added in May with a cumulative total of 111,306. As a result of these convicted offender/arrestee samples, 24 unsolved cases were matched to convicted offenders/arrestees, two case-to-case matches were made, with a resulting total of 19 investigations being aided for the month.

Planning Manager Attends IALEP Mid-Year Board Meeting in El Paso

Maria Garcia-Cunningham, APD's Planning Manager is serving a two year term as Secretary of the International Association of Law Enforcement Planners (IALEP). She recently attended a mid-year board meeting in El Paso, Texas. The El Paso Police Department will be hosting the IALEP conference in 2018.

Two APD Officers Make a Difference

Officers W. Velasquez and P. Mauser were called to a burglary at a local hotel. A couple traveling from Arizona to Illinois had their car broken into, which was packed full of their personal belongings, including family jewelry and business records. Officers Velasquez and Mauser helped the couple unload their car of their remaining belongings and moved them to their room on the third floor of the hotel. Officer Velasquez called the couple the next day to check on how they were doing. One of the victims wrote to the Albuquerque Journal and described their experience with APD: "This experience has renewed my faith in police departments everywhere and their ability to cope with a widespread increase in crime and vandalism around the country. I hope that the City of Albuquerque will do everything possible to make their (APD) job easier, and to particularly respect the job that they are doing with very little understanding from the general public."

Books and Badges

The Northeast Police and Communities Together (PACT) Team and Stand True for Blue partnered to establish "Books and Badges" with Hope Elementary School. Officers met with the students on a weekly basis to read and talk about being productive members of their community. This community policing initiative promotes positive police interaction with the youngest of students and promotes literacy at the same time.
